

Your prayers to your god are for naught, for he does not listen.
Instead, he revels in your crying and in your despair.